Same way we always do it.

Treat every package as if they would be inspected, opened, and xrayed. We sometimes spend more on the shipping than the item itself.

We also don't necessarily have to ship via USPS, we can ship via a host of options.

The law states that anyone caught with a handgun in Britain will get 5 years in jail minimum (mandatory sentencing). Anyone importing a gun into the UK is going to need balls of steel, no matter how much you hype your packaging. Hype hype ting.

Greetings SR Community,

Since joining SR roughly 3-4 weeks ago, we've received some very suspicious requests from potential buyers. Some requests from very obvious LEOs looking to bust sellers.

I believe the reason for this being that we are domestic and they are selective to those they have jurisdiction over.

We will be posting regularly on buyers of which we highly suspect are LEO.

I believe that we've been contacted by LEO on SR at least 3 times.

Below is an obvious one. Will be posting more following this one. All sellers please beware.

Here is the message received from this suspected LEO:

Hi,

I have spent the last two days trying to set up a bit coin account and going crazy. Then I remembered I used to buy my X online via paypal. If you can accept that as payment, pet me how much per bean you want and shipping cost, and I can paypal the amount to you ASAP!

Thanks!

No person in their right mind would even think to conduct this sort of business via PayPal. It is a death sentence should you go that route.

Please let me know your thoughts.

Thank you.
